

What is the Young Westerners Club?

Membership in Western Building Material Association's Young Westerners Club is an investment in the future of the building materials industry, YOUR FUTURE.

The group is comprised of dedicated, enthusiastic individuals, meeting together annually, for development and improvement of sales, management, product knowledge and other performance skills vital to our future.

The Young Westerners Club elects its own Officers and Trustees at the annual YWC Conference. This committee meets throughout the year to plan and prepare for the following year's activities, utilizing the resources available through WBMA & industry sources to ensure that all the programs are educational and informative.

The Annual Young Westerners Club Conference is scheduled during either January or February so that employee attendance does not place an excessive burden on manpower during the industry's busy season. Spouses of members are invited and encouraged to attend all programs.

There are no membership dues to belong to the Young Westerners Club. The only requirements for voting members are they must be under 36 years of age (those over 36 are welcome to participate at the conference) and be employed by a WBMA member firm.

Young Westerners

Objectives:

- ◆ To promote the goals and objectives of Western Building Material Association.
- ◆ To continuously provide training, instruction and resource materials to member personnel in product knowledge, basic skills, management techniques and improved marketing methods through clinics, seminars, and workshops at the annual YWC Conference.
- ◆ To introduce issues relevant to the building material industry and how they affect the industry as a whole.
- ◆ To encourage careers in the building materials industry while establishing a network of fellow YWC and WBMA members from throughout the Northwest. YWC provides an opportunity to establish valuable long term relationships with others facing similar situations and challenges.

“This organization is the best avenue that I have found to date for learning about the building supply industry and for building relationships within the industry.”
